GOVERNOR'S VETOES

S.B. No. 535-Nielsen.

An act relating to emergency medical services.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 535 without my signature.

The bill seeks to increase the membership of the California Commission on Emergency Medical Services from 18 members to 20 members, adding representatives from air ambulance and air rescue and transport.

My administration proposed to eliminate this commission in 2011, as part of an overall effort to consolidate departments and streamline boards and commissions. For as long as the Commission continues to perform its work, there should be no shortage of expertise or willingness of an 18–member body to address all aspects of the system, including air ambulance and air rescue. Any lack of appropriate attention should be remedied by the commission and the public process that is used to address matters of import to the public and other system stakeholders.

Sincerely,

Edmund G. Brown Jr.

2013

Sep. 23—Shall Senate Bill 535 become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor? (Must be considered pursuant to Joint Rule 58.5.)

S.B. No. 156—Beall et al.

An act relating to conservatorships and guardianships.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 156 without my signature.

This bill would eliminate a court's discretion to compensate a guardian or conservator from the conservatee's estate for costs incurred to defend a fee request if the court reduces the fee request by even a small amount.

I believe that judges exercise their discretion under existing law governing compensation for defense costs in a fair and balanced way. Nevertheless, the bill could have improved the process had the last amendment to the bill not eliminated the three qualifying criteria under which a judge could award some or all of the defense costs. I cannot sign this bill without them.

Sincerely,

Edmund G. Brown Jr.

S.B. No. 344—Padilla.

An act relating to schools.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 344 without my signature.

This bill interferes with the work of the State Board of Education as it implements, through an open and transparent process, the Local Control Funding Formula.

Moreover, it contains provisions contrary to the July budget agreement.

For these reasons, I am unable to sign this bill.

S.B. No. 62—Lieu.

An act relating to coroners.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 62 without my signature.

The bill would require a county coroner to make a report to the Medical Board whenever a Schedule II, III or IV drug was found to be the cause of death.

While I am concerned about the harm caused by prescription drug misuse and overdose, the bill creates an unfunded mandate for the state, potentially in the millions of dollars.

Instead, I am signing SB 670, which gives the Medical Board better access to information needed to investigate suspicious deaths. I am also signing SB 809, which modestly increases practitioners' licensing fees to fund a sorely needed overhaul of the state's Controlled Substance Utilization Review and Evaluation System and Prescription Drug Monitoring Program.

I expect that these measures, along with more vigorous efforts by the Board, will help detect and prevent prescription drug abuse without further burdening taxpayers.

Sincerely,

Edmund G. Brown Jr.

S.B. No. 399—Wright.

An act relating to state contracts.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 399 without my signature.

It is the policy of the state to provide for the timely payment of every state contract – whether the work is completed on a standard or emergency basis. For the rare occasion when timely payment does not occur, current law provides specific safeguards.

Recognizing the distinct struggles faced by small businesses and nonprofit organizations, increased safeguards are provided for these entities, including a higher late payment penalty. Extending the higher penalty rate to all contracts in a narrowly defined category – regardless of the size of the contractor – would be inconsistent with the state's policy of reserving this additional protection for those that need it most.

An act relating to pharmacy.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 205 without my signature.

The bill would require certain parts of a prescription drug's label to be printed in at least 12-point typeface.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

S.B. No. 3—Yee et al.

An act relating to the Political Reform Act of 1974.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 3 without my signature.

This bill would require the Fair Political Practices Commission to create an additional online training course for campaign treasurers. This is a costly and unnecessary addition to the extensive training and outreach that the Commission already provides.

Additionally, this bill requires the Secretary of State to write a report on what it would take to have comprehensive online campaign disclosure. There is no doubt the current system — widely viewed as outdated and cumbersome — needs upgrading.

I am, therefore, directing the Government Operations Agency to consult the Fair Political Practices Commission and the Secretary of State and come back to me with recommendations on the best way to improve campaign disclosure.

S.B. No. 158—Correa et al.

An act relating to autism services.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 158 without my signature.

The bill seeks to give the Department of Developmental Services permission to establish a voluntary program with no identified funding to focus attention on autism spectrum disorders and underserved communities.

Understanding the needs of disparate communities is a responsibility and goal the department, regional centers, and the three University Centers on Excellence in Developmental Disabilities all share. The bill imparts no new authority, alters no mission, and provides no new money to these efforts. As such, the work that the bill seeks to promote is already underway, to the best extent of available resources.

If new federal or private resources should become available, the infrastructure and the will to do more are already there.

An act relating to taxation.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 582 without my signature.

This bill requires the Board of Equalization, Franchise Tax Board, and Employment Development Department to conduct a feasibility study on the development of a Webpage that "virtually consolidates" these departments to improve service to taxpayers.

Consolidation of the tax departments has been studied for decades. We don't need to conduct any further studies. I instruct the Secretary of the Government Operations Agency to determine if taxpayer service can be improved in a cost effective manner with a single state Webpage for all state taxes. If it can, my administration will work with the author to seek implementing legislation should it be needed.

An act relating to taxation.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

This bill is a creative approach for funding Cal Grant awards. I commend the author for his resource-fulness.

Unfortunately the bill inadvertently impacts the Proposition 98 funding guarantee negatively. This flaw can easily be corrected by specifying in a new bill that the donations transferred to the General Fund are "General Fund revenues" for purposes of Proposition 98. I direct the Department of Finance to work with the author so a new bill that avoids this negative impact can be sent to me next January.

S.B. No. 723—Correa et al.

An act relating to veterans.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 723 without my signature.

This measure requires a report on the best practices that other states use to give credentialing credit to veterans for their military education and experience.

I want to commend Senator Correa for his great work championing the causes of veterans. I agree with the Senator's goal to make sure our returning veterans get every advantage as they re—enter the civilian workforce. To that end, I am instructing all professional and occupational licensing boards to review their requirements for licensure to make sure military experience is counted where appropriate.

I don't think a general report as called for in this bill satisfies the author's intent to help veterans as much as the actions I'm setting in motion. If the licensing boards and commissions uncover the need to alter current laws to help veterans obtain licenses, I will work with the Senator to make that happen. Sincerely,

Last year I vetoed a nearly identical bill, SB 1366, noting that I was not convinced that criminalizing the failure to report a lost or stolen firearm would improve identification of gun traffickers or help law enforcement disarm people prohibited from possessing guns. This bill requires the California Highway Patrol (CHP) to conduct annual safety inspections for stretch limousines and charge an inspection fee in an amount up to $75. Unfortunately, the fee is insufficient to cover the actual cost of the inspections.

Riding in a limousine should be free from dangers that can be avoided with an annual safety inspection. I already signed SB 109 this year that sets basic requirements for emergency escape windows. I call on the Legislature to send me urgency legislation next January with the same provisions except authorizing the CHP to charge a fee for the actual cost to perform the inspections. Sincerely,

S.B. No. 374—Steinberg et al. An act relating to firearms.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 374 without my signature.

The State of California already has some of the strictest gun laws in the country, including bans on military-style assault rifles and high-capacity ammunition magazines.

While the author's intent is to strengthen these restrictions, this bill goes much farther by banning any semi-automatic rifle with a detachable magazine. This ban covers low-capacity rifles that are commonly used for hunting, firearms training, and marksmanship practice, as well as some historical and collectible firearms. Moreover, hundreds of thousands of current gun owners would have to register their rifles as assault weapons and would be banned from selling or transferring them in the future.

Today I signed a number of bills that strengthen California's gun laws, including AB 48, which closes a loophole in the existing ban on dangerous high–capacity magazines. I also signed AB 1131 and SB 127, which restrict the ability of mentally unstable people to purchase or possess guns.

I don't believe that this bill's blanket ban on semi-automatic rifles would reduce criminal activity or enhance public safety enough to warrant this infringement on gun owners' rights. Sincerely,

Edmund G. Brown Jr.

This bill requires the District Agricultural Association 1–A (Cow Palace) to obtain approval from the County of San Mateo and the City and County of San Francisco prior to entering into a contract for a gun show on state property.

I encourage all District Agricultural Associations to work with their local communities when determining their operations and events. This bill, however, totally pre–empts the Board of Directors of the Cow Palace from exercising its contracting authority whenever a gun show is involved. I prefer to leave these decisions to the sound discretion of the Board.

S.B. No. 516—Steinberg et al.

An act relating to foreign labor contractors.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 516 without my signature.

This bill seeks to prevent the exploitation of foreign workers — a worthy goal which I support. Unfortunately, the registration and filing fees established by the bill are insufficient to support the ongoing costs of the proposed program.

This funding shortfall would be underwritten by the Labor Enforcement and Compliance Fund, funded from an assessment on employers' workers' compensation premiums.

This shift in costs is inequitable as it would result in all California employers paying a share of the enforcement costs for the regulation of these foreign labor contractors. I request that the Legislature send me a bill in January where the fees generated are sufficient to pay for the costs of the program proposed by this measure.

Sincerely,

Edmund G Brown Jr.

Current law defines assault weapon to include any shotgun with a revolving cylinder. In modifying the definition of shotgun to include certain rifles with a revolving cylinder that can fire both shotgun and rifle cartridges, this bill bans a small group of specialty rifles with no identified impact on public safety.

An act relating to elections.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 654 without my signature.

This bill would require that the Attorney General's title and summary be translated into multiple languages before an initiative measure could be circulated for signatures. A translation would also be required before a recall petition could be circulated. Current law already requires language translations for measures that qualify to appear on the ballot.

As I noted in my veto message last year, imposing translation obligations at the circulating stage would add substantial burdens to the initiative process. I remain unconvinced that the benefits outweigh the costs.

This bill requires that a specific mitigation plan be considered for the I–710 widening project. I commend the author's objectives, as reflected in this bill, to improve air quality, ensure access to bicycle and pedestrian paths, and increase access to public transit. These are goals we share.

However, statutorily requiring the project environmental impact report to consider specified mitigation measures that exceed the project's scope is a precedent I don't wish to establish. Caltrans is instructed to continue to work with the author and local stakeholders on identifying mitigation measures within the scope of CEQA that ensure the I–710 project benefits motorists, good movement, the community, and the environment.

29

S.B. No. 131—Beall et al.

An act relating to damages.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 131 without my signature.

This bill makes amendments to the statute of limitations relating to claims of childhood sexual abuse. Specifically, it amends and significantly expands a 2002 law to "revive" certain claims that previously had been time barred.

Statutes of limitation reach back to Roman law and were specifically enshrined in the English common law by the Limitations Act of 1623. Ever since, and in every state, including California, various limits have been imposed on the time when lawsuits may still be initiated. Even though valid and profoundly important claims are at stake, all jurisdictions have seen fit to bar actions after a lapse of years.

The reason for such a universal practice is one of fairness. There comes a time when an individual or organization should be secure in the reasonable expectation that past acts are indeed in the past and not subject to further lawsuits. With the passage of time, evidence may be lost or disposed of, memories fade and witnesses move away or die.

Over the years, California's laws regarding time limits for childhood sexual abuse cases have been amended many times. The changes have affected not only how long a person has to make a claim, but also who may be sued for the sexual abuse. The issue of who is subject to liability is an important distinction as the law in this area has always and rightfully imposed longer periods of liability for an actual perpetrator of sexual abuse than for an organization that employed that perpetrator. This makes sense as third parties are in a very different position than perpetrators with respect to both evidence and memories.

For claims against a perpetrator of abuse, the current law is that a claimant must sue within eight years of attaining the age of majority (i.e. age 26) or "within three years of the date the plaintiff discovers or reasonably should have discovered that psychological injury or illness occurring after the age of majority was caused by the sexual abuse, whichever period expires later" However, for claims against a third party – e.g. an organization that employed the perpetrator of the abuse – the general rule since 1998 was that a claimant must sue before he or she turns 26. A later discovered psychological injury – no matter how compelling – could not be brought against a third party by a person older than 26.

When a number of high profile sex abuse scandals in both public and private institutions came to light, many felt that the third party limitation rule described above was too harsh and that claimants over 26 should be able to recover damages for later discovered injuries from certain, more culpable entities.

In 2002, the California Legislature weighed the competing considerations on this issue and enacted SB 1779, which did the following: (1) It identified for the first time a new subcategory of third party defendants which no longer would have the protection of the age 26 cutoff for claims. Going forward these defendants – entities who knew or should have known of the sexual abuse and failed to take action – now could be sued within three years of the date of discovery of a claim. (2) Looking backwards, SB 1779 also revived for one year only (2003) all claims that had previously lapsed because of the statute of limitation. This very unusual "one year revival" of lapsed claims allowed victims relief but also set a defined cut–off time for these lapsed claims.

In reliance on the clear language and intent of this statute, the private third party defendants covered by this bill took actions to resolve these legacy claims of victims older than 26. Over 1,000 claims were filed against the Catholic Church alone, some involving alleged abuse as far back as the 1930s. By 2007, the Catholic Church in California had paid out more than $1.2 billion to settle the claims filed during this one year revival period. Other private and non–profit employers were sued and paid out as well.

For the public third parties covered by this bill, however, a very different result occurred. There is no doubt that in 2002, when SB 1779 was enacted, it was intended to apply to both public and private entities. Indeed, it would be unreasonable, if not shocking, for the Legislature to intentionally discriminate against one set of victims, e.g. those whose abusers happened to be employed by a public instead of a private entity. However, due to a drafting error, the California Supreme Court held in 2007 that SB 1779 did not actually apply to public or governmental agencies. So, unlike private institutions, public schools and government entities were shielded from the one year revival of lapsed claims. As a result, the similarly situated victims of these entities were not accorded the remedies of SB 1779.

In 2008, the Legislature addressed this unfair distinction between victims of public as opposed to private institutions. Note, however, that the bill enacted, SB 640, did not restore equity between these two sets of victims. Instead of subjecting public/governmental entities to all of the provisions of the 2002 law, the Legislature only allowed victims of public institutions to sue under the new rules prospectively-from 2009 forward-and provided no "one year revival" period.

In passing this 2008 law, I can't believe the legislature decided that victims of abuse by a public entity are somehow less deserving than those who suffered abuse by a private entity. The children assaulted by Jerry Sandusky at Penn State or the teachers at Miramonte Elementary School in Los Angeles are no less worthy because of the nature of the institution they attended. Rather, I believe that legislators, in good faith, weighed the merits of such claims against the equities of allowing claims to be brought against third parties years after the abuse occurred. The Legislature concluded that fairness required that certain claims should be allowed, but only going forward.

This brings us to the bill now before me, SB 131. This bill does not change a victim's ability to sue a perpetrator. This bill also does not change the significant inequity that exists between private and public entities. What this bill does do is go back to the only group, i.e. private institutions, that have already been subjected to the unusual "one year revival period" and makes them, and them alone, subject to suit indefinitely. This extraordinary extension of the statute of limitations, which legislators chose not to apply to public institutions, is simply too open-ended and unfair. For all these reasons, I am returning SB 131 without my signature.

Sincerely,

Edmund G. Brown Jr.

An act relating to privacy.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

This bill requires law enforcement agencies to obtain a search warrant when seeking access to electronic communications. Federal law currently requires a search warrant, subpoena or court order to access this kind of information and in the vast majority of cases, law enforcement agencies obtain a search warrant.

The bill, however, imposes new notice requirements that go beyond those required by federal law and could impede ongoing criminal investigations. I do not think that is wise.

S.B. No. 598—Hill et al.

An act relating to pharmacy.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

Senate Bill 598 would effect two changes to our state's pharmacy law. First, it would allow interchangeable "biosimilar" drugs to be substituted for biologic drugs, once these interchangeable drugs are approved by the federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA). This is a policy I strongly support.

Second, it requires pharmacists to send notifications back to prescribers about which drug was dispensed. This requirement, which on its face looks reasonable, is for some reason highly controversial. Doctors with whom I have spoken would welcome this information. CalPERS and other large purchasers warn that the requirement itself would cast doubt on the safety and desirability of more cost–effective alternatives to biologics.

The FDA, which has jurisdiction for approving all drugs, has not yet determined what standards will be required for biosimilars to meet the higher threshold for "interchangeability." Given this fact, to require physician notification at this point strikes me as premature.

For these reasons, I am returning SB 598 without my signature. Sincerely,

Edmund G. Brown Jr.

Oct. 12—Shall Senate Bill 744 become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor? (Must be considered pursuant to Joint Rule 58.5.)

34

S.B. No. 36—Hueso.

An act relating to workers' compensation.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 36 without my signature.

The information required to be posted online by this bill is already available publicly, including online, through the California Department of Insurance, the Department of Industrial Relations, the Workers' Compensation Insurance Rating Bureau and the Commission of Health, Safety and Workers' Compensation.

A new law is not required.

Sincerely,

Edmund G. Brown Jr.

Oct. 13—Shall Senate Bill 36 become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor? (Must be considered pursuant to Joint Rule 58.5.)

35

S.B. No. 258-Lieu.

An act relating to workers' compensation.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 258 without my signature.

This measure clarifies the intent of last year's historic Workers' Compensation reform as it relates to assignment of medical liens and the prospective nature of the new requirements — I agree with that. Unfortunately, the bill also makes an unnecessary change to the qualifications for appointment to the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board.

The existing option to appoint qualified non-attorneys to two of the seven slots is reasonable. I see no reason to limit future Governors in their authority to appoint members of the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board.

I will work with the Legislature next year to make the clarification that assignment of medical liens was intended to be prospective under SB 863 (Chapter 363, Statutes of 2012).

Sincerely.

Edmund G. Brown Jr.

36

S.B. No. 448—Leno et al.

An act relating to energy.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 448 without my signature.

This bill is unnecessary. The Energy Commission already has the authority to analyze and interpret changes in petroleum supply and market price.

I am directing the Commission to work with the Attorney General to evaluate market trends and ways to respond to price volatility. We need to have a plan and a rapid response team in place with the capability to respond when sudden and untoward price fluctuations occur.

Sincerely,

37

S.B. No. 615—Galgiani.

An act relating to public works.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 615 without my signature.

While I am staunchly supportive of prevailing wages, and the quality work and good paying jobs that are associated with these wages, I am unable to sign this measure.

Applying prevailing wage requirements to healthcare facility projects that receive conduit revenue bond financing would result in unbudgeted state enforcement and investigative costs.

Further, the measure fails to define the term health care facilities' which could result in many more projects being subject to this measure than intended.

Sincerely,

Edmund G. Brown Jr.

Oct. 13—Shall Senate Bill 615 become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor? (Must be considered pursuant to Joint Rule 58.5.)

38

S.B. No. 746—Leno.

An act relating to health care coverage.

To the Members of the California State Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill 746 without my signature.

This bill would require all health plans and insurers to disclose every year broad data relating to services used by large employer groups, including aggregate rate increases by benefit category. The bill also requires that one health plan additionally provide anonymous claims data or patient level data upon request and without charge to large purchasers.

I support efforts to make health care costs more transparent, and my administration is moving forward to establish transparency programs that will cover all health plans and systems.

I urge all parties to work together in this effort. If these voluntary efforts fail, I will seriously consider stronger actions.

Sincerely,

Edmund G. Brown Jr.
